A Strong Appeal for the Defense. Comrade Nossaman Answered.

To THE EDITOR: Under the heading "A Persecuted Soldier," we notice in THE NA-TIONAL TRIBUNE of Aug. 27, 1885, "A Statement from the Other Side," over the signature of one Lewis Nossaman, Co. D, 2d Mo. Cav., Bethany, Mo. This article bears the ear-marks of the hired attorneys for the prosecution of George D. Williams so plain, even to the use of the very words used by one of them in writing to a friend about this case, that there can be no doubt as to the real author of the Nossaman article; and, further, there is no person who is acquainted with Nossaman who would ever believe that he is the real author, from the fact that he is known to be mentally incompetent to write anything of the kind. He has allowed himself to be used as the catspaw of this prosecution, which perhaps no other soldier in Harrison County would have done; and while it is a fact that he served, as he says, in the 2d Mo. Cav., it is also a fact that the men who served in the same regiment with him unhesitatingly say that while in the army he was considered as being disloyal all the time. It is further a fact that soon after his discharge from the army he was disfranchised by the Board of Registration of this County for disloyalty, a man who had served in the same regiment with him being at that time President of the Board that distranchised him. Nossaman says he knows much about the fact of the matter, as he lived here at the time. His home was here at the time, it is true; but as he was in the army from August, 1862, to August, 1865, if he knows the facts he got them only as hearsay, and we believe that his statement as to facts in this case are no more reliable than his statements as to what this committee have done.

The 2d Mo. Cav. (Merrill's Horse) at its Reunion at Princeton, Mo., Aug. 21, 1885, at which there were 48 members of the Missouri battalion (including Nossaman) present, entirely ignored Nossaman, and in view of setting their regiment right before the people as to this case (Nossaman's letter having been previously published in a local paper here) passed a resolution condemning the persecution of Williams, with the approval of all the members present except Nossaman, and then and there raised quite a little sum of money for the assistance of Williams, and have since paid the same to the treasurer of this committee. As to the statements made by Nossaman in the article above referred to, we will say that this committee in its statement published in THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE of June 18, 1885, or at any time, have not unwillingly, or in any other manner, done the people of this County or the soldier's cause any injustice, or imposed or attempted to impose upon any one as Nossaman states; but, on the contrary, we made a fair statement of the case as known here, and if any harm has been done the people or good name of this County, it has been done by the persons who are trying to convict a Union soldier for what he did as a of Isaac McCollom and his father has never been disputed here, until it became necessary to do so in order to create a prejudice against Williams. We deny that Isaac McCollom was a member of a loval malitia company, and if he belonged to any malitia company is was that known as the "Paw-Paw Malitia," which was known and has gone into history as disloyal. (See Greeley's American Conflict, Vol. II, p. 656.) Reliable men here remember that Isaac Mc-Collom stated openly a short time before his death that if he went to the army at all he would go to Price's army.

This committee have never stated that Williams could not get a fair trial in this County, or that a Union soldier stood a poor show for justice in "poor old Missouri," or anything that could reasonably be construed to mean that or anything like it. We simply asked for aid to assist him in procuring competent counsel to make his defense and to pay the expenses of collecting his evidence, that had become scattered by the 21 years of intervening time, and to pay the necessary incidental expenses of his trial; and we did this, representing the sentiment of every true Union soldier of this Coundefense should and would be shared by his fellow-soldjers, instead of being allowed to fall shoulder to shoulder with us in the hours of trial and danger should not be left to carry the burden of his persecution alone. The responses we have received from all over the United States prove that we were correct. We believed that when his trial was over he would be in as good a condition financially as before. The use of Nossaman by the prosecution, and the false construction per on the actions of this committee by that letter, shows the lengths they will go to warp and bias popular opinion, and prevent any further contributions, to the end that they may succeed in getting Williams

If courts have been regularly held here during and ever since the war, as stated by attorneys for the prosecution in their Nossaman letter (and they have been so held), why has Williams, if guilty, not been indicted and tried before this? We answer, simply because in all that time no grand jury has ever before been As to the statement in Nossaman's letter that

Williams was home on furlough, and a long distauce from any of the officers of his regiment. it scarcely needs our answer, as any soldier knows that a United States soldier is subject to the orders of his superior officer of the United States army, whether belonging to his regiment

We think that a careful reading of Nossaman's letter will convince any one that it is tee have written and done, and we ask that the general rule be applied to him, "That where a material statement of a witness is shown to be false, all bis other statements are to be disregarded."-W. P. ROBINSON, J. WALKER, ED. S.

TO THE EDITOR: In THE NATIONAL TRIB-UNE of Aug. 20, I saw an article on the George Co. B, 2d Mo. Cay. As an answer to Nossaman's article, I wish to say, this same article was published in the Bethany (Mo.) Broadax of Aug. 13, 1885. At a Reunion of the Missouri Battalion of the 2d Mo. Cav., held at Princeton, Mo., Aug. 20 and 21, 1885, at which 48 members, including Nossaman, were present, the following resolution was passed unani-

Resoired. That we the members of the Missouri Battalion of Merrili's Horse (2d Mo. Cav.), now assembled at the Rennion of the Second Congressions. sional District of Missouri, do condemn the steps in the prosecution now pending against Comrade George D. Williams, Co. B, 13th Mo. Cav., in the ant Court of finerison County, Mo., for the kill ing of Isaac McCollom, while endeavoring to disarm him, in compliance with a general order to disarm all rebel sympathizers, he resisting and re-fusing to surrender his arms.

After passing the resolution, a collection was taken up to a sist George D. Williams in his defense, and the sum collected paid to Col. Robinson, treasurer of the soldiers' committee for the defense of George D. Williams. That is what the members of the Missouri Battalion of Merrill's Horse (2d Mo. Cav.), who live here and know, think of the prosecution of Williams and of Nossaman's letter. They knew of the Nossaman letter at the time the resolution was passed, and it was passed as a rebuke to Nossaman and to give the lie to that letter .-JAMES T. ANDERSON, Co. D, 2d Mo. Cav., Ridge-

He Stands Up for Black.

To the Editor: I saw in your paper that somebody who was ashamed to sign his name thought Gen. J. C. Black was drawing too much pension. Now, I was a soldier of his old regiment, and was wounded at the same battle he was. I know how badly he was injured and how bravely he endured the pain and suffer-ing while on the battlefield at Fayetteville, Ark. He would not leave his comrades until he saw that they were safe. I think it is a shame that so brave and true a soldier as J. C. Black should be ridiculed, and especially by a man who has not the courage to sign his name so that we may know who he is. I'll venture it was somebody who ran away from the country to get away from the draft. Gen. Black was always ready to lead his regiment. He never said "I'll close up the rear," but it was always "Come, boys, follow me !" I think if the man who wrote the article I have referred to had ever suffered half as much in his life as Gen. Black did in a week when he lay at Fayetteville with his arm shattered, he would never have said what he did, There is no danger that the Government will pay too much to any of the crippled veterans .-S. STRANG, Co. G, 37th Ill., Byron, Ogle Co., Ill.
